

English creamware transfer-printed Masonic jug, c.1800
POA

English creamware transfer-printed Masonic jug, c.1800, decorated to one side with the London arms of the Antients or the Athol Grand Lodge, the other with a Masonic print.

Dimensions:

Height: 18.5cm. (7 5/16in.)

Notes:

The print 'A Free Mason Form'd out of the Materials of his Lodge' is from an engraving after Alexander Slade, circa 1754.

Provenance: The collection of Brodersen in Hjerpsted.

Material and Technique	Transfer-printed creamware
Origin	British
Period	19th Century
Condition	Very good
Dimensions	Height: 18.5cm. (7 5/16in.)

