

Japanese Imari plate with foliate rim, early 18th century
POA

Japanese Imari plate with foliate rim, early 18th century, with gently scalloped rim, decorated in underglaze blue and overglaze iron-red enamel to the central roundel with an archaic-form tripod jardinière containing foliate peony and grasses upon a wooden verandah between two small dogs at play, the cavetto with three scrolling lotus cartouches interspersed by chrysanthemum heads against a blue ground, the rim with shaped cartouches containing landscape scenes against a ground with boughs of pine and blossoming cherry, the reverse with three branches of blossoming plum to the rim, concentric blue circles and usual spur marks to the base.

Material and Technique	Porcelain with overglaze enamel decoration and underglaze cobalt blue decoration
Origin	Japanese
Period	18th Century
Condition	Excellent
Diameter	22.8cm. (9in.)

Antique ref: U145