

Chinese blue and white charger, Kangxi (1662-1722) POA

Chinese blue and white charger, Kangxi (1662-1722), with barbed rim, decorated in underglaze blue with a central roundel containing a large lotus head amongst curling foliage, encircled by a band of ruyi-heads and two radiating bands of ogee-topped petal-shaped panels containing various flowers including chrysanthemum, dianthus, peony and prunus, against cellular diaper ground, the reverse with three fruiting sprays and a central artemisia mark within a double circle to the base.

Dimensions:

Diameter: 38cm. (15 in.)

Condition:

Haircrack and some chips and frits to rim all restored to high standard

Material and Technique	Porcelain with underglaze cobalt blue decoration
Origin	Chinese
Period	18th Century
Condition	Good
Diameter	38cm. (15 in.)

Antique ref: W761