

Japanese kakiemon bowl, Edo Period (1603-1868), c.1690
POA

Japanese kakiemon bowl, Edo Period (1603-1868), c.1690, with fluted sides and scalloped rim, decorated to the interior with peony heads and prunus blossom around a central imperial chrysanthemum medallion (kikumon), the exterior with flowers growing amongst bound bamboo above a red geometric scroll to the foot.

Condition: broken, two chips (one with old restoration; see images)

Notes: The banded bamboo hedge design was frequently copied on porcelain in Europe, where it was sometimes mistakenly identified as a wheatsheaf.

Material and Technique	Porcelain with overglaze enamel decoration
Origin	Japanese
Period	17th Century
Diameter	23cm. (9 1/16in.)

Antique ref: W300