

John Crouch Chronograph 248 Landeron Movement
£1,000.00

Not much is known about John Crouch, a boutique Swiss Watch manufacture this maybe one of only one advertised but that shouldn't take away from the watch. The manual wind movement powered by a respected 248 Landeron Movement.

Stainless steel case measuring 38mm due to the age of the watch we would not consider this to be waterproof being from 1966.

Black dial with silvered hands, a 2 button pusher chronograph function that appears to be in fine working order with the watch itself being in remarkable condition for its age. Pushers appear to be original as do all of the watch particulars. Fitted to an unsigned black leather strap with buckle.
