

UTI Toptime Chronograph 17765-5
£2,450.00

Back in the mid 50s collaborations between the French watch manufacturer UTI (1906-1984) and other major watch brands was established which allowed UTI to launch onto the market watches with its logo on the dial. One of these company's was Breitling and you are looking at one of the results from this partnership - Breitling Toptime UTI 17765-5. From what we have found out, it was assumed that only the largest and most influential distributors were able to sell a prestigious brand such as Breitling without any mention of the name on the dial.

The timepiece, model 17765, features a 39mm stainless steel case, silvered dial with Arabic tritium numbers, 3 chronographs positioned at 3, 6 and 9 o'clock, respectively and a plexiglass.

The watch operates from a manual-wind movement, caliber Venus 178, providing this watch with a power reserve of up to 45 hours. Fitted to an unsigned brown leather two-piece strap with a pin buckle. Not water-resistant.
