

Small Chinese white glazed jar (guan), 14/15th century
POA

Small Chinese white glazed jar (guan), 14/15th century, of globular form with short spreading neck and tubular lug handles to the shoulders, the body covered with a thick white glaze and decorated with iron brown arrowhead shapes, the unglazed foot revealing the buff stoneware body underneath

Dimensions:

Height: 5.4cm. (2 1/8in.)

Notes:

Jars of this type were frequently exported to Southeast Asia; many similar examples have been excavated in the Philippines. For more information see Addis, J. M. 'Chinese porcelain found in the Philippines', in Transactions of the Oriental Ceramic Society 1967-69, London, pp.17-37, see plate 44

| | |
|-------------------------------|--------------------------------------|
| Material and Technique | Stoneware with white and brown glaze |
| Origin | Chinese |
| Period | 15th Century and Earlier |
| Dimensions | Height: 5.4cm. (2 1/8in.) |

Antique ref: V814