

Vintage 9kt rose gold cocktail ring with citrine
£695.00

Vintage 9kt rose gold cocktail ring with 24.67 cts. of rectangular - cut citrine.

Please see the video of the ring: <https://rb.gy/x7tpmd>

Design: The ring showcases a robust, geometric design typical of the cocktail rings from the mid-20th century, possibly dating from the 1940s to the 1960s. The large gemstone is secured with prongs and held within a lattice-like gallery that enhances its brilliance by allowing light to pass through.

Style: This ring exemplifies the bold and glamorous style of the mid-century period, often referred to as Retro or Cocktail style. These rings were designed to make a statement and were usually worn during evening events and parties.

Historical Context:

Cocktail Rings: These rings became highly popular during the Prohibition era in the United States (1920-1933). They were named after cocktail parties where such bold jewellery pieces were showcased. The style continued to evolve through the 1940s and 1950s, featuring large, colourful gemstones and intricate designs.

Dimensions -

Ring Size (UK) = P (EU) = 57 (US) = 8

Weight: 9.68 grams

Citrine -

Cut: rectangular shaped

Carat weight: 24.67 carats in total

Gemstones are commonly treated to enhance colour or clarity. This has not been investigated for this specific article

Condition: Pre-owned, minor signs of usage, no damage, excellent overall condition.

Period	1940s
Condition	Good
Materials	Gold
Main Gemstone	Citrine
Carat for Gold	9 K

Antique ref: Citrine ring