

Chinese blue and white ginger jar with pierced wooden cover, Kangxi (1662-1722)

POA

Chinese blue and white ginger jar with pierced wooden cover, Kangxi (1662-1722), the body with two panels, one with a cherry bough issuing from rockwork with birds and insects in flight, the other with an archaic vessel containing feathers and coral surrounded by be-ribboned precious objects including cash coins, a lozenge and a mirror; floral sprays on either side of the panels.

Condition: Good

Material and Technique	Porcelain with underglaze cobalt blue decoration
Origin	Chinese
Dimensions	Height: 17.5cm. (6 7/8in.)

Antique ref: X970