

Pair of Chinese famille verte plates, Kangxi (1662-1722)
POA

Pair of Chinese famille verte plates, Kangxi (1662-1722), each decorated with a central stylised cruciform floral motif and four large lotus-leaf cartouches containing prunus, pine and bamboo issuing from rockwork, interspersed by stylised lotus buds and sprouting grasses, the rims with narrow scrolling bands in iron red, the reverse with three peony sprays and central floral mark within concentric circles in underglaze cobalt blue.

Dimensions:

Diameter: 21cm. (8 1/4in.)

Condition:

One plate with three restored chips and possible associated very short hairlines and two very shallow frits, the other with a restored rim chip to underside of rim and two very small frits to rim

Notes:

An illustrated example of a plate with the same pattern on a green ground can be found in Jorg, Christiaan, 'Famille Verte', p. 65, pl. 66. Variations of this pattern can also be found on 18th century Delft faience.

Material and Technique	Porcelain with overglaze enamel decoration in the famille verte palette
Origin	Chinese
Diameter	21cm. (8 1/4in.)

Antique ref: Y5