

Early Victorian 18kt. gold rope - twisted chain necklace
£5,950.00

Early Victorian 18kt. gold rope - twisted chain necklace.

Period:

This style of necklace was popular during the Victorian era (1837–1901), specifically in the mid-to-late 19th century. The use of hollow construction and decorative elements points to a focus on both aesthetic beauty and functionality, as this was a time when jewellery was not only ornamental but also practical.

The wearer could wrap them multiple times around the neck or wear them long to hang a pendant or other attachment.
