

Antique Jade Archers Ring POA

Jade Chinese Archers Ring.

In Ancient China Thumb rings were worn by Archers to take the strain of the cords and bows as they drew them.

As Archery was considered a noble sporting exercise Jade thumb rings were worn as a symbol of elevated social status and worn specifically to signify military rank or senior ties in religious sects.

Dated 18th Century to early 19th century.

Museum quality.

Ps. Have you spotted the crouching tiger?
