

Japanese Arita blue and white kraak-style plate, c.1700
POA

Japanese Arita blue and white kraak-style plate, c.1700, decorated in deep cobalt blue to the central roundel with a pair of birds in flight, another pair below on the ground amongst grasses, seedpods and blooming peony heads, the wide rim with eight sections containing further flowers, blossom and artemisia leaves, the reverse with two floral sprays and spur marks.

Condition: Good

Notes: An Arita kraak-style plate with similar central design is in the collection of the V&A (1711-1876)

Material and Technique	Ceramic with underglaze cobalt blue decoration
Origin	Japanese
Period	18th Century
Diameter	31.7cm. (12 1/2 in.)

Antique ref: W522