The Oris Royal Flying Doctor Service Limited Edition is a special edition watch made by Oris in partnership with the Royal Flying Doctor Service of Australia (RFDS).

This watch is presented in very good condition with both box and papers.

It features a black dial with features to aid in medical situations, such as a pulsometer scale, which allows the wearer to measure pulse rates.

With a 44mm stainless steel case, which is a standard size for pilot watches.

Material:

Powered by an automatic Oris caliber movement providing around a 38-hour power reserve.

The case back is engraved with the RFDS emblem and limited-edition numbering, marking its exclusivity and celebrating the mission of the RFDS.

The see-through case back offers a view of the movement.

Our View - This model is part of a limited series, with only a select number of pieces produced, making it highly collectible.
