Stock Number: CHW6009
Price: £695.00

In the early 90s Tag Heuer launched a model aiming to bridge the gap between the earlier 2000 series and the sports/elegance line. So in 1991 this led to the introduction of the 4000 series which they described as “a well-tempered character”, offering strength, assertive contours, originality, and a powerful design.

This timepiece is presented in excellent working order, currently running at +4s/d, and good condition, accompanied by our 12 month warranty.

This Tag Heuer, model WF2121-k, features a 38mm stainless steel case, uni-directional rotating bezel in stainless steel with 10 minute interval engravings and gold plated rehaul, silver dial with a combination of baton and arrow markers, date aperture to 3 o'clock and a sapphire crystal glass.

The watch operates from an automatic movement, caliber ETA 2824, providing a maximum power reserve of up to 38 hours. Water resistant to 200m.

The watch is fitted to a signed Tag Heuer bracelet with gold plated centre links and a double folding clasp. Can fit a wrist of up to 19.5/20cm.
