

Victorian Diamond Maltese Cross Brooch - Charlotte Sayers
£14,500.00

This Victorian brooch, circa 1840-1850, features a stunning Maltese cross design crafted in 18ct gold and silver, set with sparkling old-cut diamonds. The Maltese cross, with its eight-pointed shape, has historical significance, symbolising courage, honour, and loyalty, often associated with the Knights of Malta. During the Victorian era, it was a popular motif representing both status and elegance. The old-cut diamonds are set in silver, enhancing their natural brilliance, while the 18ct gold accents provide warmth and contrast.

Measurements: 5.6cm diameter

<https://charlottesayers.com/products/victorian-diamond-maltese-cross-brooch>

Antique ref: CA9360