

Japanese blue and white Arita ewer, circa 1680, with early mounts
POA

Japanese blue and white Arita ewer, circa 1680, with early mounts, painted in a rich underglaze blue, decorated on the the globular body with three panels containing peonies, against a background of karakusa interspersed with flower heads, with a loop handle, the domed silver metal lid with a scroll thumb piece and what appears to be an early Dutch silver mark.

Material and Technique	Porcelain with underglaze cobalt blue
Origin	Japanese
Period	17th Century
Condition	Other
Dimensions	Height (including lid): 30cm. (11 13/16in.); height without lid: 27.5cm. (10 3/4in.)

Antique ref: W55