

A very fine 18 Carat White Gold (tested) Oval Natural Untreated Siam Ruby (1.71 Carats) and Diamond Cluster Ring, Circa 1970 £15,850.00

For a true representation of the stone's colour, please see additional photographs.

This extraordinary and stylish oval Ruby and Diamond Cluster ring is centrally "Raised Claw Set" with an Oval Natural Untreated Siamese Ruby which has been assessed 1.71 Carats (weighed), with no indication of thermal enhancement and of "Siam" in origin. This beautiful lustrous natural Ruby is surrounded by 24 "Claw Set" Diamonds of which fourteen are "Round Brilliant Cut" Diamonds and ten are "Tapered Baguette Cut" Diamonds. The total Diamonds as assessed (unweighed) is approximately 1.45 carats. The Diamonds are all very well matched and are of "Good Commercial Colour and Clarity". The "Round Brilliant Cut" Diamonds are set to the left and right of the Ruby (over two tiers) and the "Tapered Baguette Cut" Diamonds are set to each end of the oval shaped cluster in a graduating fan shaped" design. This beautiful ring has been finely constructed in an 18 Carat White Gold "Ballerina style setting".

Accompanied by an Independent Gemmologists Report confirming the Ruby's assessment.

It should be noted that untreated rubies are scarce.

Circa 1970

Period	1970s
Condition	Very good

Materials	White Gold
------------------	------------

Main Gemstone	Ruby
----------------------	------

Main Gemstone Cut	Oval Cut
--------------------------	----------

Carat for Gold	18 K
-----------------------	------

Main Gemstone Carat	1.71
----------------------------	------

Secondary Gemstone	Diamond
---------------------------	---------

Secondary Gemstone Cut	Brilliant Cut
-------------------------------	---------------

Secondary Gemstone Carat	1.45
---------------------------------	------

Antique ref: S5231